The citizens of earth have fled before the oncoming Zargon Fleet. You have been left to guard the earth's supply of uranium....

Things are worse then you expected. The Mother ship is laying pods that hatch on landing, or split into two if shot. Other ships are peeling off from the main fleet, and diving towards the holes made in the defences. The successful ones mutate into Mother ships, which are indestructable. Once the majority have mutated, they commence landing procedures.

You may make holes in your own defences to trap the hatched out pods, but you can only do this five times.
